

QUARRY RUN DOWN WITH BLOODHOUND

Alex Markham Tracked by Dog
as Burner of Powell Barn.

PROTESTS HIS INNOCENCE

Trait Is Followed from Burned
Building Direct to His Home.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
BEDFORD CITY, Va., November 14.—Alex Markham, a white man, was追踪到 his home late this afternoon charged with setting fire to the stable of A. C. Powell, at Goffs, yesterday evening. He was tracked to his home by a bloodhound from Roanoke, and arrested at daybreak. Mr. Powell, who owns the store at Goffs, was at his home when he saw his stable on fire. As he ran to the stable he noticed some one in the stars, and so instead of going to the fire he hurried after the intruder, and claims he recognized the man as Markham.

Mr. Powell, who is a member of the church for his bloodhound, but failing in that, had Ed Lloyd of Roanoke, to come down on the 2 o'clock train with his dog.

They were driven at once to Goffs, and the bloodhound immediately caught the trail at the stable, followed it to the store, and then ran to Markham's home, where the arrest was made at daybreak.

It is claimed that Markham set fire to the stable, in which two valuable horses and a cow were burned, to distract attention and run the store. Two men were present at the justice's trial this morning, and there was much excitement. He has been taken to Salem for safe-keeping. Markham, who is about forty-five years old, and has a wife and three children, protests his innocence.

WANT GOOD ROADS.

Plan to Macadamize from Waynesboro
Over the Blue Ridge Mountains.
WAYNESBORO, Va., November 14.—“Good roads” are occupying the attention of the transportation and business men of this section, as evidenced by a meeting held recently at the residence of Colonel J. Wilcox Brown, near Afron, Va., at which time ways and means were discussed for the building of a road from Waynesboro over the Blue Ridge Mountains to a point in Albemarle county. The old right-of-way of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad has been selected as the center of its surveying. Plans are now being prepared and private subscriptions asked the fund to supplement what will be appropriated by the several Boards of Supervisors. J. W. Brown, president of the Highway Commission, was present at this meeting and strongly urged upon the meeting the necessity of this road, which will connect the Shenandoah Valley with East Virginia.

The mammoth ear of corn is being exhibited this week, measuring fourteen inches long and containing $12 kernels. This was paid for a load brought in by a local farmer who raised forty-five bushels of shelled corn of excellent quality on land that he bought for $16 per acre. Farmers from New York were in this section this week looking for sites for summer homes, and recent sales of Waynesboro building lots have been made to wealthy men from Indianapolis, Ind., Richmond and Pittsburgh.

ERECT ORPHANAGE.

Location and Principal Offices Will Be in Winston-Salem.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., November 14.—The incorporation papers for a new Methodist Orphanage to be erected in this city, incorporated under the name of “The Children’s Home,” have been filed with the clerk of the Superior Court here to-day. The incorporators of the orphanage are Messrs. George H. Detwiler, Walter Thompson, J. A. Glenn, E. H. Hackney, Frank Siler, N. R. Richardson, George F. Ivie, C. M. McRae, John C. Johnson, J. L. Nease and S. S. Rogers, who in the opening paragraph of the documents state that they associate themselves in this corporation under the laws of the State. The location and principal office is to be in this city. The period of existence of the corporation will be a non-stock corporation.

Still at Large.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
SPENCER, N. C., November 14.—Officers of the police here in their efforts to run down the parties who burglarized the home of Postmaster C. E. Fesperman in East Spencer Wednesday night, informed the members of the family and also sojourned the substation of the United States post-office, but are without reward. It is said there are marks to show that the burglar, before committing the robbery, pried the window slightly open and blew in a powerful opiate, which caused a deep sleep upon the occupants of the house. All the females were sickened from its effects when finally awakened.

THEY WILL RECOVER.

Mr. and Mrs. Ashburn Return from the Pasture Institute.
WINSTON-SALEM, November 14.—Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Ashburn, of Surry county, who were recently bitten by a snake while on a vacation in the South, where they received the Pasteur treatment under Dr. C. A. Shore, Mr. Ashburn was bitten on the leg and Mrs. Ashburn on the arm. Dr. Shore stated that while the snakes had given the patients that they would recover Mr. and Mrs. Ashburn returned to their home in Surry county to-day.

News of Petersburg

Times-Dispatch Bureau,
109 North Spy Creek Street,
Petersburg, Va., November 14.

The enlargement of the Federal building in this city, for which Messrs. Seay & Son, of Lynchburg, have the contract, will add six large rooms to the building. The foundation has been laid, which, by the way, is very deep—one and a half stories from roof to ground. The building to be extended out a distance of thirty-five feet, and the blocks now being moved are to be used in rebuilding the new rear wall.

The improvement will largely add to the room in the post-office department, which is so greatly needed for the handling of the mails, of which seventeen are received and sent out each day.

The postmaster and his assistant will be given suitable offices, and a convenient office for the transaction of the money order business will be set apart. The additional rooms on the second and third floors, as the new building will be extended out a distance, will be used for a dispensary, a conference of the customs and internal revenue departments. Messrs. Seay & Son’s bid for the work was $8,600, and they expect to finish the job some time next year.

At an adjourned meeting of the Petersburg Boat Racing Association, held last night in the parlors of the Chesterfield Hotel, rules were adopted for the government of the motor-boat race to take place next Saturday, and of future races of the kind. The race next week promises to be one of the most exciting ever held here, all the pleasure boats owned here have been entered for this race. Some of these boats are fine and swift little crafts, but handicaps as to time will be arranged so as to place all as nearly on the same basis as to speed. The race will start and finish in the harbor.

Personal and Otherwise.

Rev. Dr. C. Braxton Bryan, rector of Grace Episcopal Church, and Mrs. Bryan received and entertained the members of the congregation at the rectory, on High Street, yesterday afternoon. Mr. Atwill, who was formerly pastor of Wesley Methodist Episcopal Church here.

At a meeting of the Kings Daughters of this city yesterday, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Leader, Mrs. J. W. Seward; Vice-Leader, Mrs. A. G. M. Martin; Secretary, Miss Sallie Meacham; Assistant Secretary, Miss Leila Holden; Corresponding Secretary, Miss Mamie Smith; Assistant Corresponding Secretary, Miss Mary Fatteson. The Daughters have laid out plans for noble work this winter in the way of assistance and relief for the needy.

Chapel Hill Notes.

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., November 14.—The Albermarle Pioneers Club was entertained yesterday at the home of Professor Collier Cobb in honor of his sister, Miss Lucy Cobb, of Alabama. Many interesting pastimes were engaged in. At 11 o’clock a dinner repast was served.

Messrs. D. Battle and John W. Unstead left Wednesday for Philadelphia, where they met the representatives of Pennsylvania in debate. Last year Unstead lost to Pennsylvania, the debate being the only one lost by them the whole year.

An excursion to the Virginia game on Thanksgiving in Richmond has been arranged, and this year it will leave on Wednesday night instead of Thursday morning, as heretofore. This change will give the students more time in Richmond, as the train will arrive there early Thursday morning.

Mr. C. O. Robinson, one of the assistant managers, has the sleepers in charge, and he says that most of the berths have already been taken.

AN ARRAIGNMENT OF REV. CANNON

Chancellor Smith Distributes
Pamphlet Containing Very Serious Charges.

NEW TURN IN CONTROVERSY

Believed That Question Will Not Be Allowed to Pass Unnoticed by Cannon.

NORFOLK, November 14.—The distribution to-day among the members of the Virginia Conference, Methodist Episcopal Church, South, now in session here in Epworth Church, of a sixteen-page pamphlet signed by Chancellor W. W. Smith of the Randolph-Macon system of colleges and schools, and aimed at the Rev. Dr. James Cannon, Jr., the leader of the movement for a change in the manner of electing the trustees of the Randolph-Macon system, goes close to the question as to whether the Randolph-Macon matter will come up further at this session of the conference.

The nature of the contents of the pamphlet suggests that it may not be allowed to pass by Dr. Cannon without his arising to a question of personal privilege.

The pamphlet makes decidedly interesting reading, as besides Dr. Smith’s arraignment of Dr. Cannon, it gives certain correspondence, in which Dr. Cannon, in referring to the movement in question, says that the Methodist institutions became a beneficiary of the Carnegie fund, uses the expression:

“I cannot look with any degree of patience on any concealment of any important facts in the matter affecting the church.”

Saltville Notes.

SALTVILLE, Va., November 14.—Mrs. J. C. Kent, of Bristol, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Kent this week.

Mr. W. E. Roberts, of the M. A. Works, is off on a short vacation, stopping with his parents in Radford for a few days, and from thence will go to New York on a business trip before returning.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Goethals have returned from a visit of ten days to relatives and friends in New York City.

Dr. George A. Wright and family of Radford, this evening, paid a call to the doctor’s father, Dr. Giles, in the latter’s home, where they will remain for a week or two.

Last Monday, near Riverside, this country, while Mr. S. E. Kent, County Clerk, was out on a hunt, Mr. Kent’s gun was accidentally discharged within ten feet of Mr. Gass’ head, wounding him severely. Mr. Gass, a few of the shot blowing through the scalp, greatly frightening both parties. Dr. T. Jefferson Hughes of Saltville, was summoned over the phone in great alarm, and quickly reached the scene, and found the wounds to be of very slight character.

Dr. F. A. Wilder, president Southern Gypsum Company, was in Lynchburg this week on business.

Miss Gertrude Abbott of Fremont, Neb., was in Saltville last Monday, and went up in Rich Valley, where she will visit relatives for a week.

Mr. Abbott was accompanied from Nebraska by Mrs. Dr. A. E. Buchanan and children. Mrs. Buchanan is the daughter of the late George W. Pratt. Mrs. Abbott is native of Smith county, having gone to Nebraska just after the late war.

Misses Juanita McNutt and Mary Park, two of Martin Washington College students, were guests of Mrs. Mrs. John R. George the first of the week.

Miss Nellie Copenhagen, of Marion, is visiting relatives in Saltville.

Notes From Trinity.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
TRINITY COLLEGE, DURHAM, N. C., November 14.—The college has eight members appointed by the National Historical Association to prepare a course in history for elementary schools in America has just completed its work. This will be printed by Scribner’s, and will be ready for distribution by the spring. Professor E. Brooks, of the Department of Education, was the chairman of the committee appointed from the South. Librarian J. P. Breedlove returned to-day from Greensboro, where he went Thursday to attend the annual meeting of the North Carolina Library Association. The meeting was a notable one, and showed a great revival of interest in libraries and library work throughout the State.

Mr. J. N. Cole, Jr., of Raleigh, major in the class, has also completed his preliminary arrangements after the war serving as captain for five years. He served throughout the Civil War as a member of that company, which was assigned to service with Company G, Eleventh Virginia Infantry, rising from corporal to captain.

He was made brigadier-general by the first Legislature. He engaged in tobacco business for years prior to going into the post-office. He had not been in good health for some months because of heart trouble, but his death came as a profound shock to the city.

Thomas E. Cary.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
CHATHAM, November 14.—Thomas E. Cary died at the home of his mother here Thursday afternoon, following an illness of only a few days with acute rheumatism. He was about thirty-eight years ago, and had spent his entire life here. Besides his aged mother, he was left alone.

He was a member of that company, which was assigned to service with Company G, Eleventh Virginia Infantry, rising from corporal to captain. As senior officer of the regiment, he was in command at the retreat of General Lee from Petersburg, and in several battles. After the war he was made brigadier-general by the first Legislature. He engaged in tobacco business for years prior to going into the post-office. He had not been in good health for some months because of heart trouble, but his death came as a profound shock to the city.

STEPS ON GIRLS’ TOE.

Her Escort Resents It, and Murder Is Result.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
RALEIGH, N. C., November 14.—Because he stepped on a girl’s toe in the midst of a big quilting party dance at Forestville, this county, Louie Holding, colored, was set upon by Turner Evans, the girl’s escort, with a party of friends, dragged down a stairway feet foremost, and in a scuffle that followed, Holding was cut in the abdomen so that he died during the day in a Raleigh hospital. Evans was captured and jailed in Raleigh.
